

JOURNAL OF PROCEEDINGS

The said bill being read through, and so amended as above, was then passed.

On motion by Mr. Thomas of Cecil, the house then agreed to resume the consideration of the unfinished business of Saturday last, as regards the bill, entitled, An act to abolish the office of Auditor General, and to require the Examiner General to perform the duties now performed by said Auditor General. When

On motion by Mr. Semmes, the house was called, and the absent members now remaining in the city were sent for.

Mr. Teackle then moved, that during the absence of the door keeper the house resume the consideration of the bill, entitled, An act for the better regulation of the treasury department. And the question thereon being taken, was resolved in the affirmative.

On motion by Mr. Thomas of Cecil, the question was then propounded, Shall the further consideration of said bill be referred to the first day of April next? And the yeas and nays being required by seven members, were taken and appeared as follow:
